ABOUT ME

I'm currently studying front-end development and I'm interested in the UX design field.

My time working in the travel industry has allowed me to see the world from various perspectives and understand its complexities making me an open-minded and empathetic person.

I thrive on facing challenges and I am not afraid of confronting them, as I believe that every challenge presents an opportunity to learn and grow.

The dynamic nature of the tourism industry has honed my ability to quickly adapt and learn in ever-changing environments.

This love for continuous learning led me to delve into web development, a field that mirrors the rapid pace of change in the world.

While a full-time job presents time constraints, I remain dedicated, spending every available moment to learn web design.

I would love to get the opportunity to work as a front-end developer, as it would allow me to dedicate more time to creative endeavors and immerse myself in a collaborative environment with experienced colleagues.

I firmly believe that surrounding myself with individuals who excel in their field is the most rapid and effective path to personal growth and development.

Beyond my professional pursuits, I find solace in mountain walks and travelling.
